Correction In List Of Jap Philippine Occupation Stamps

Since the publication of the list of Japanese issued Occupation stamps for the Philippine Islands in our issue of the 29th of March, we have received from T/Sgt. T. H. Price who supplied the original list, a further letter in which he makes a correction in some of the items listed.

Following are the corrections: The stamps given numbers 34a, 35a, 36c, should be numbered 35a, 36a and 37a in the same order.

There is also a correction in numbers 60, 61 and 62. These numbers should be corrected to read with the values on the stamps expressed as 5s, 7s and 20s instead of 5c, 12c and 20c as printed.

The reason for this latter change is that the values on the stamps are shown with the letters "S" instead of "C", yet there is no difference in the meaning, since the letter "S" is for "Sentabo", Tagalog word for Centavo.

Editor Of Collier's Says 'Fence Him In'

Representative Emanuel Celler (D.-N. Y.) has introduced a House bill about second class mail which looks to us like a step in the right direction. Postmaster General Frank Walker has for some years been exercising in ways which look capricious and tyrannical the present powers of his department over publications' second-class mail privileges. There were the famous, or infamous, Esquire Magazine case, the Police Gazette case, and the less publicized cases of the publications called Sunshine and Health, the Fourth International, and View.

Representative Celler's bill would not abolish the Post Office Department's power to bar obscene or seditious matter from second-class mail rights—a power which you can argue the department should have—but it would take the exercise of that power out of the realm of each successive Postmaster General's caprice and regularize it.

"Should this bill become law, postmasters would still be able to impound matter which they suspected of being obscene, or seditious. But they would have to notify the United States Attorney within ten days thereafter, and he would have to bring a court action within thirty days. Otherwise, the suspect stuff would have to be cleared through the mails."

"When court actions were brought, the trials would be by jury."

"Cellar may or may not have hit on the best way to solve this problem; we don't know. We are convinced, though, that the prob-

Stamps Auctioned For Red Cross

Staehle Again Crowded King Of Cachet Artists

By John J. Haag

The year 1944 saw many more cover designers, sponsors and collectors join the ranks of our armed forces. The result was a smaller number of covers being designed and sponsored. The temporary loss of these members also resulted in a smaller number of votes being cast in the twelfth annual vote for "King of Cachets," although over 500 votes were enough to give a clear view of the collectors' opinions.

In reviewing the cachet designs of the past year it is quite evident that what was lacking in quantity was more than made up in quality. The general run of designs were much better than we have seen in past years. It is really a pleasure to notice the development of the cachet to such a high standard.

Top of all designers was again L. W. Staehle who designed the King of 1942 and 1943. During the past year L. W. designed forty different designs. Of these twenty-one were various designs for first day covers and nineteen were for war and patriotic purposes.

The design voted "King of Cachets for 1944" was used on a first day cover for the first day sale of the Savannah stamp from Kings Point, N. Y., on May 22, 1944. Featured is the Maritime Insignia, and air view of Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy, the steamer Savannah and proper wording. Designed by L. W. Staehle the cachet was sponsored by Ed Jordan of Elmhurst, N. Y. Jordan is well known for the many cachets that he sponsors. He is the owner of the mark "Smartcraft" which identifies the cachets that he is responsible for.

The "Queen of Cachets for 1944" was one issued for the first day sale of the Motion Picture stamp on October 31, 1944. Sponsored by the Washington Stamp Exchange it is one in their famous Artcraft Engraving Series. The design features a group of amazed people gazing into the first moving picture machine, a bust of Thomas A. Edison and proper wording.

Their designs have always been on a high standard and the engraving of excellent quality.

Third place also went to a design by L. W. Staehle. The "Crown Prince of Cachets for 1944" was designed for the first day sale of the Railroad stamp on May 10, 1944. It features the front of an old type locomotor and a modern streamliner, the seal of the Union Pacific and a chain effect linking San Francisco, Ogden and Omaha. As with the King design this cachet was also sponsored by Ed Jordan and is one of his "Smartcraft" series.

As in the first contest held in 1932, I am confining the Royal Family to the top three again this year. This is due to the fact that the remainder of the votes were so scattered it would be impossible to make a fair selection for the rest of the family. The three winners mentioned above received by far the greatest majority of the votes cast. It is interesting to note that a survey of all the votes cast shows that 95% of them were cast for cachets issued for first day events.

Perhaps next year will find many friends back in the ranks of the cover fraternity and then, once again, we will be able to select the full Royal Family of ten. This is our hope and prayer—that they all may be safely returned to us in the near future. In the meantime the places vacated by them will remain open for their return. They have not been forgotten and will find a welcome awaiting them on their return.

Enthusiastic Bidders Paid Fabulous Prices For 347 Lots Of Stamps At Auction Sale For Red Cross Funds

Eight o'clock on the evening of March 29th found one of the largest crowds in philatelic history assembled at the Astor Gallery of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria in New York to pay tribute to the American Red Cross. The occasion was a de-luxe auction sale of choice stamps all contributed for the Red Cross 1945 War Fund, by dealers and collectors from all over the country. Promptly at eight, ceremonies were gotten under way. First with the Presentation of the colors by ladies of the Red Cross; the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the assembly, led by Miss Margaret Daun of the National Broadcasting Co. After a few introductory remarks by Mr. Y. Souren,

Business Will Benefit From Lowered Latin American Airmail Rate

A new schedule of airmail rates for practically all Latin American countries and several of the West Indian islands was announced in our columns on April 5, and were effective as of April 1st.

Collectors of stamps will appreciate this new schedule of rates in the months to come when the war is over and trading in stamps with these countries will again be freely done. We see nothing in the rate schedule which will necessitate new stamps for our country since we now have in issue stamps of all values according to the various rates.

Just what is behind this rate reduction which in some instances is as much as 50% we do not know but would hazard a guess that our country is laying plans now for a greater trade with Latin American countries following the war and lower air mail rates will be of big help in this.

Whether the reduction in rates by our country will affect the rates of the countries to the south and cause them to make reductions will be something for us to watch for and learn about if and when it is done.

Should such a situation arise we could feel certain that there might be a cause for several new stamps from some of these countries.

Free Trade In Stamps Export Permits Are No Longer Required

Philatelic export permits will not be required for the export of postage stamps on or after April 16, 1945, according to an announcement by the Office of Censorship.

The changes being made in philatelic censorship regulations will also permit the shipment of postage stamps to or their receipt from all countries except Germany, Japan, and areas occupied or controlled by these countries. Shipments will be subject to the Foreign Funds Control Regulations of the Treasury Department with respect to business transactions and remittance licenses.

It was pointed out that the censorship of this material will not be relaxed since the change is merely one of procedure, which dispenses with the requirement for an export permit.

The status of philatelic communications which have been detained previously because of wartime security regulations is not altered by virtue of these changes in censorship regulations.

Chairman of the Division of Philately, the Red Cross unit sponsoring the sale, short talks were given by Mr. Walter L. (Red) Barber, General Chairman of the Red Cross War Fund for Greater New York. Col. John Stilwell, Chairman of the Collector's Unit of the Division of Philately and the Hon. Albert Goldman, Postmaster of New York, who is the Honorary Chairman of the Division of Philately.

Then the main business of the evening was started with Mr. Gregory Moziam in the auctioneer's chair. Mr. Moziam announced that since this was all for the benefit of the Red Cross, he would forget his usual consideration of auction buyers and "stick" every one of them to the utmost. Against a floor crowd of more than 260 persons, there were 1004 mail bids tabulated, all hoping to secure something from the 347 lots in the sale.

For Lot #1, the mail bids were quickly out of competition. Opening at $20.00, the bidding quickly progressed up to $130.00 at which figure it was sold by Mr. Jacques Minkus, head of Gimbel's Stamp Department, and Chairman of the Dealers Unit of the Division of Philately. A cover carried on the First Flight of the "Constellation", and signed in honor of the American Red Cross (Lot #15) by General Joseph Stilwell was bought by Y. Souren for $250.00, who requested that the auctioneer again put it up for sale, realizing $50.00 a second time, to Mr. N. Berger. Lot #42, a 10c 1847, superb, on cover, the lot contributed anonymously in memory of the late William Kelleher, son of Daniel F. Kelleher, well known Boston dealer, was bought and resold five times at from $200 to $500 before it finally found someone who kept it after buying it on the sixth occasion on which it was offered. A total of $1460.00 was realized from this cover alone. Bill Kelleher gave his life, in France, so that we might escape the ravages of war in our own country.

Complete lists of prices realized are being sent to all who contributed $1.00, or more to the Red Cross 1945 War Fund, through the Division of Philately, hence, it would hardly be fair to those who did so, to turn these remarks into a priced catalogue of the sale.

However, when the evening was over, a total of $32,414.50 had been realized for the Red Cross 1945 War Fund. More than $2700.00 of this represented outright gifts to the Red Cross, through the redonation of lots purchased, and another $5000.00, at least, reflected the good will and great hearted spirit of the

PHILATELIC MAPS FOR ALBUM PAGES

We read the advertisement of Mr. K. Bileski in our last issue and note that he is proposing to offer his Philatelic Maps in groups of countries such as British Colonies, West Indies, Latin America and in almost any other group one could wish for. When he first offered these maps in our columns a few weeks ago we commented on them and made the suggestion that they be made available in this manner. We are glad to see that this suggestion is being followed and predict a big sale for them. We have seen a sample and feel confident that everyone will be highly pleased with them and that all collectors will want them.

AUSTRALIA Commemoratives—On February 19th a set of 3 stamps was issued to honor the arrival of the Duke & Duchess of Gloucester. The design features the Duke in military uniform, and the Duchess in air-force uniform. On top is the word AUSTRALIA, and the value and year are shown on bottom. Values and colors are 2½d carmine, 3½d ultramarine and 5½d slate blue.
—John G. Ross

EGYPT—Postage. Two new values of the King Farouk type (A77) have been noted. Values are 2m red-orange and 22m deep blue.
FRANCE postage—Eight more values of the Marianne type printed in London, type of Edmund Dulac have been issued. Values are 40c deep blue, 50c red-orange, 60c blue-gray, 80c bright green, 1Fr. dull purple, 1Fr. 20 olive-green, 2Fr. brown and 2Fr. 40 carmine. High values are also expected.
—Leon Monosson

FRENCH MOROCCO—On January 25th 1 chronicled a set of 6 air mails. The 5 values from 50c thru 50Fr. are of the same design as this one.
FRENCH MOROCCO postage. Another value of the present series is the 10c light cerise.

GREENLAND Postage—A new series of 9 values; the first since 1938 was issued on February 1, 1945. Stamps are attractive and are printed by American Bank Note Co. Values, colors, and designs are: 1 ore, slate green and purple; 5ore, red-purple and olive-brown; and 7ore, green and black. These 3 picture a seal on ice and are small in size. The 10 ore, purple and olive green; and 15 ore, orange, red and blue. These two picture King Christian of Denmark astride his horse. A dog-sled team is shown on the 30 ore blue and salmon; a polar bear on a ice cake is on the 1 Krone brown and gray; a native in his kayak on the 2Kr. dark brown and green; and a native bird on the 5Kr. purple and olive brown. Only 100,000 sets were printed.
—N. Y. Sun

NORWAY Commemoratives—A set of 4 values was issued to commemorate the 100th birthday of Grieg, the famous composer. Designs are the same for all stamps. Values and colors are: 10 ore, olive green; 20 ore,

BRITISH COLONIALS Since our last Shop Talk we have been breaking up:
1. A fine four volume collection of unused 20th Colonial.
2. A three volume collection of Colonials since 1930, all mint—finest condition.
3. A three volume general 19th most unused, strong in American and Australian Colonies.
4. A neat little lot almost complete of West Indies Islands, 19th mostly used, 20th mint.
5. A three volume lot of Used Colonials which are going very rapidly.
Better tell us what you need in British Colonials—the good ones go fast.

PACKET LIST Still on the fire—we ran it in the STAMP WHOLESALER, and we are getting 10 orders a day from dealers—you'll get yours at the same price if we ever get the list out.

THE STORE We've shifted the counters around, scrubbed and painted—all we need now is a record to say "no we don't carry pages for Orphan albums, nor First Day Covers". THE QUESTION OF DAMAGED STAMPS

We feel impelled to write this editorial because of the receipt of a letter from an advertising patron who has made complaint to us that he believes that the editorial which we published in our issue of March 22, is in effect detrimental to his business in that he offers stamps which are described as in condition other than good or fine, such stamps as he may describe as fair or poor. He asks if it is objectionable to offer in advertisements in fair or defective condition and at the same time have such stamps listed and offered in auctions. Our reply was simply that the stamps which we described were as we tried to describe them, so terribly damaged and defective that we do not believe that this dealer or any other reputable dealer would even think of offering them for sale and as for such material being sold at auction, we have attended many auctions, seen many auction lots and have never yet seen lots offering individual single stamps in such horrible condition as the material we tried to describe. Occasionally we have noted a lot in an auction which is described as being a lot of badly defective culls from "the collection". We see no reason why if someone wants to look over and possibly bid on such a lot that they should not do so. But we again say that the type of material we tried to describe is unfit for anyone to put into any stamp collection and that we have never yet found any dealer who has had the regular habit of putting such material in approval selections or advertising it for sale.

We do not know how to make the point more clear than in this manner. Stamps slightly off center, possibly with a perf missing, a minute thin spot, a straight edge are perfectly good copies for legitimate sale, naturally all these defects in one stamp would make it a very poor copy, yet not such a bad example as we have tried to describe.

Our own personal opinion is that the condition craze has gone a bit too far in some instances. It is fortunate however that this craze seems confined mostly to collectors of United States stamps for we seldom see so much fuss made over foreign stamps.

The man who demands perfect centering, full gum, never hinged, every perf standing up in perfect order and all that sort of stuff should be expected to pay full catalog or more for every stamp he buys and in our estimation, such demands for condition are unreasonable and far from necessary in building a worth while stamp collection. The bulk of all stamps are not of this condition and it is fortunate for the stamp dealer that all collections are not of much mind.

On the other hand we do not advise or recommend anyone to buy a badly damaged stamp. Your collection will be far better without some particular stamp than to have the space filled with a badly damaged one. Put the money that you would put into that stamp into something in good condition.

It is unfortunate that there is no definite or clearly understood set of words or terms that will permit one to visualize a stamp from the description of the stamp as poor, fair, good, fine, very fine or superb.

We believe that such a method of description worked out by pictures and words would be possible, the main benefit of such a chart would be to fully illustrate and describe the stamp of poorest quality so that nothing worse might be offered under the name of poor.

If we accept the word poor copy as being the worst copy that can be offered we ought to know whether a poor copy means a whole stamp, three quarters of a stamp or half a stamp. No stamp which is not whole should be accepted by any collector. The sole exception to this remark would in our estimation be an imperforate copy which might have one or more margins trimmed into the design, yet not to such an extent that the stamp was reduced in size to any extent, and even then it would have to be a stamp which was issued in unperforated condition only and not one which was issued both perforated and unperforated.

In the collection we previously described were such stamps as the Lincoln, the Hudson-Fulton and the Alaska Yukon, presumably imperforate with margins so small that any dealer who sold them as imperforates should be hanged.

We said, "Any dealer who sold them as imperforates." We said it that way simply because in this instance we felt that someone had sold these particular stamps to the old lady we mentioned as imperforate. In other words, found someone whom they could bilk and did it openly. It is such business as this that we protest against.

If any collector of less mature age wants to buy defects, we have no sympathy for him, he should know better.

SUGGESTS A SEAL OF APPROVAL FOR DEALERS

A reader who starts his letter off with a complaint about a purchase he made from some dealer suggests that we start a "Good Housekeeping" kind of a seal of approval for dealers.

Such a plan has long ago been suggested by us for adoption by the American Stamp Dealers Association. We hope to see the day that this Association will adopt it. Collections will then look for the ASDA emblem in every dealers advertising and feel that they can deal with such dealers with safety.

On the other hand a tremendous lot of complaints we get are utterly silly and show conclusively that the collector himself is at fault. He orders something that is offered and priced far below what a fine copy is worth and because the copy does not suit him he blames the dealer. Just so soon as more collectors realize that choice stamps, whether singles, in packets or in mixtures can not be sold at half price just that much sooner will a lot of them stop complaining about dealers. Many dealers offer trashy mixtures because there are so many foolish collectors who want to buy them.

buyers contributing in excess of the normal commercial value of the lots offered, simply because everything was going to the Red Cross. In addition to the raising of this imposing sum through the auction, Mr. Souren announced that up to 3 p. m. on March 28th, the day preceding the sale, there had been deposited $10,466.53, contributed directly in cash largely with requests for auction catalogues. Making a total of $42,881.03, plus several hundred dollars received between March 28th and the time of this writing. In addition, there are pledges of 1% of the proceeds of several auction sales, not yet held, which will be added to the fund, before the books are closed.

The War Fund was the beneficiary of more than a $100.00 through the generosity of a group of New York dealers who on learning of the death of Percy G. Doane, on March 28th, contributed to the Red Cross the sum that might ordinarily have been spent on flowers.

The credit for the success of this enterprise belongs to the many who have made it possible. It belongs to the many donors of beautiful stamps for the auction and to the hundreds whose contributions swelled the fund to such substantial proportions. It is the spirit of generosity and the great humanitarian meaning of the Red Cross, which brought forth such magnificent response.

But, as in every enterprise, there are a few who gladly go beyond ordinary "line of duty" or privilege, and in this connection the names of Mr. Spencer Anderson, Mr. H. R. Harmer, Mr. H. E. Harris, Mr. B. H. Homan Jr., Messrs. Laurence and Stryker, Mr. Jacques Minkus and Mr. Y. Souren ought to be mentioned. Not that these were the only ones to have rendered such signal service to the cause, but their contributions in time, stamps and from their pockets has made their participation outstanding. And this is said in full cognizance of the wonderful support given by so many others, so many, in fact, that acknowledgment must await the publication of an honor roll.

Thus, we close this phase of the campaign in grateful acknowledgment to all who have contributed so generously to its success. But the drive is not over. The needs continue, and our efforts will likewise continue so that Philately may be able, collectively to show its maxim appreciation of

QUALITY BARGAINS
If you have passed my offering in Linn's with the thought that the prices were too low to be very fine stamps, read this letter, from among many received from satisfied customers.

"I have received your shipment of stamps which I ordered from your recent advertisement in Linn's, and have found them all in order. This letter is for the sole purpose of expressing to you my appreciation for the meticulous fulfillment of the order, and for the satisfactory condition of the stamps. I have been collecting for many years, and in my time have corresponded with many dealers, good and bad, but this is the first time that I have ever had any dealer fill an order from an advertisement which was exactly and punctiliously both what was ordered and what was advertised."
NOTE: Original of the letter has been submitted to Mr. Linn for verification of exact wording.

BY KENNETH M. GIERHART
Baltimore, Ohio

Blissfield Ohio.
A little investigation at this newly reported office reveals that in 1936 the Post Office at Blissfield burned down and everything was lost. That means of course the metal handstamp precanceling device was consumed in the conflagration. Since there were no urgent users of precancels in the town no new plate was sent. So the reported item a 1c 1926 comp, reading up in U-121 type will be a one only for the time being at least.

Although we have seen some unnecessary Dated Overprints we have not seen a single Faked Dated overprint. We hope we are not giving any one ideas for although this is a very virgin and interesting field it is also one that some smart fellow could have a picnic in. There are several restraining influences and chief among these are that there are few general collectors of Dateds. There are many who collect them but from certain towns or from certain concerns and the field is well broken up. The largest following is in printed integrals and here it would be just a little tougher to do any funny work. In the handstamps though the field is wide open but as I pointed out there are not enough collectors to create a demand and in the case of Bureau Prints a Dated is generally priced at half catalog, so this does not encourage any unnecessary application of printing on stamps either. In fact unless I am getting far behind the times I have had no reports of any kind of precancels being faked for quite some time. We hope this state affairs will continue indefinitely.

Building A Reference Collection With Pictures Of Stamps

There is an old Chinese proverb about a picture being worth a thousand words and I am using that thought in building a reference collection which if I can get it thoroughly worked up will give me a lot of information that will be far better than any book which may describe the material.

For years past I have carefully removed from old Auction catalogs, the printed plates which illustrate the stamps that are offered, usually the gems of the sale. Naturally in doing this one accumulates an endless number of pictures of 5c and 10c 1847's and many other stamps of a similar nature, but one also gets the outstanding illustrations of the greatest rarities and a collection the pages and mounted singly in an album as one would mount stamps can soon become quite interesting and show at a glance many of the choicest stamps and covers in existence.

It is unfortunate for one who may try this plan that the plates in most of the catalogues are printed on both sides of the paper and thus one side must be lost or wasted in cutting up the other.

For this reason I am making an appeal to anyone who may have an accumulation of old auction catalogues which they plan to dispose of, and ask if they can take the time to remove the plates and mail the same to our office for the use to which we propose to put them. We will gladly refund the postage cost.

Another valuable lot of material that we are trying to accumulate from these catalogues is a collection of plate number strips and blocks. Frequently, there are illustrations of these, usually the rarest and higher priced stamps and eventually we hope to build a collection of illustrations of all different plate number pieces that could hardly be brought together in any other manner.

could well fit into this splendid series. Why not a series of either five or ten stamps, all of the same denomination as were our flag stamps, printed in sheets in rows of five different or in two rows of ten different stamps in colors.

A precedent for such an issue can be found in the miniature pane of four different stamps issued for the last Philatelic Exhibition in New York, Tipex.

Such a method of issue would reduce production cost, make the
